THE HEINRICH BALTZER GENEALOGY

1775 - 1959

Dear Relatives:

Here is your Heinrich Baltzer Genealogy Book for which many of you have been waiting a long time.

What is a genealogy? "A genealogy is a history of an ancestor and his descendants." "The genealogy works down ... to the present time enumerating by generations the descendants of the selected ancestor and following only blood lines of the chosen forefather." - Stetson. The Art of Ancestor Hunting.

It is hoped that in your leisure hours you will find time to study the contents of this book. If you should discover any errors of dates or misspelled names in your family record, nothing would please me more than if you would jot down the corrections and mail them to me before you forget. That way we can get a corrected copy that will be of much value for the future.

The records of dates and names have been checked and rechecked, checked again while proofreading. It is hoped that not too many mistakes will have "crept in" while setting up the book.

It has taken over two years to collect all the data for the Baltzer Genealogy Book. After all the valuable assistance which has come from many of you and exhausting all other available sources of information, it still has not been possible to get complete records for all families. This I regret very much but a work like this is never completed and if any of you have any more information than what you find in this book on our ancestors, would you be willing to share it with us and send the items of interest or information to me? It would be appreciated very much.

I hope that this book will fulfill its purpose and be a valued treasure to you.

Sincerely,

Mrs. J. J. Voth

PIONEERS

A broken wagon wheel that rots away beside the river,

A sunken grave that dimples on the hill above the trail.

The wind sweeps, the larks, the prairie grasses quiver

And sing a wistful roving song of hoof and wheel and sail.

Pioneers! Pioneers! you trailed on to glory

Across the circling deserts to the mountains blue and dim.

New England was a night camp; (South Russia) was a story.

The new home, the true home lay out beyond the rim.

You fretted at the old hearth, the kettle and the cricket,

The fathers' little acres, the wood lot and the pond.

Ay, better storm and famine and the arrow from the thicket,

Along the road to wider lands that glimmered out beyond.

Pioneers! Pioneers! the quicksands where you wallowed,

The rocky hills and thirsty plains -- they hardly won your heed.

You snatched the thorny chance, broke the trail that others followed

For sheer joy, for dear joy of marching in the lead.

Your wagon trail is laid with steel, your tired dust is sleeping.

Your spirit stalks the valleys where a restive nation teems.

Your soul has never left them in their sowing and their reaping.

The children of the outward trail, their eyes are full of dreams.

Pioneers! Pioneers! Your children will not reckon

The dangers on a misty trail no man has ever gone.

They look beyond the sunset, where the better countries beckon,

With old faith, with bold faith to a wider dawn.

Introduction

This Genealogy of the Heinrich Baltzer family has been divided into five major parts, not including the introductory historical material, maps, a picture of Heinrich Baltzers and a copy of a letter written by Heinrich Baltzer before coming to America. Each Section is a complete record of one of the five married children and contains first a few pictures, then a brief biographical sketch followed by a complete lineage of their descendants. The cost for putting the first picture in each of the five sections has been added to the expense of the book, all other pictures have been paid for by the respective relatives. We thank all of you who have helped in this way to add to the value of the book.

A sincere effort has been made to present facts and dates as accurately as possible. Source materials which have been used are old Church records, an historical sketch of the Alexanderwohl Church, Eine Beschreibung der Alexanderwohl Gemeinde compiled by Philip A. Wedel, and other materials such as the passenger list of the different ships that brought our ancestors to America, Kansas. Miscellanies by Noble L. Prentis, all of this is found in the Historical Library at Bethel College. Also important is a small notebook in which our great-grandfather Heinrich Baltzer entered his immediate family record, which is now in the possession of Mrs. Peter J. Franz, Colby, Kansas. Also some old Family Bible records have been of great value. There is also much pertinent information about Goessel, Alexanderwohl, Tabor and other communities where the Baltzer descendants have lived and many are still living, in Mennonite Life and the new Mennonite Encyclopedia. I wish to refer in particular to the October, 1949 issue of Mennonite Life and call attention to the Cover picture and the sketch of the Alexanderwohl Village in Russia on page 23-24. Much relevant material can be found in the Historical Library at Topeka, Kansas.

It required much correspondence to secure the necessary information. Letters with printed forms have gone out to many parts of the world, such as Africa, India, Indonesia, to various parts of Canada and the bulk of them to many of the States of our own country. At times it became rather difficult to collect the needed material. There are various reasons for this. One main reason was that many of the original records were incomplete; and some had been lost. In a very few instances, there seemed a lack of interest on the part of the descendants to give out material. All in all there was splendid cooperation and much appreciation for the work which was being done to preserve our heritage for future generations.

I would like to thank all of you for intrusting me with your family records. Without your help it would have been impossible to compile such a book. Sincere acknowledgment goes to the various individuals that assisted in gathering information for this work and writing the various Articles. Special mention should be made of the following: Jacob A. Duerksen, Washington, D.C.; Tena Heinrichs, Wichita, Kansas; Helen L. Heinrichs Heldoorn, Parlier, California; Katie Wedel, Newton, Kansas; Edward Duerksen, Clinton, Oklahoma; Lena Balzer Fast, Goessel, Kansas; Sylvia Duerksen, Washington, D.C.; Alvin L. Goossen, Newton, Kansas; Selma Schmidt Duerksen, Hillsboro, Kansas; and my dear husband John for his patience.

How to Determine Relationship and Ancestry

The following symbols have been used in setting up the list of descendants: The capital letters A, B, C, D, are used to designate the children of Heinrich and Helena (Schroeder) Baltzer, known as the first generation.

As previously stated, the book has been divided into five sections, one section for each of the married Baltzer children "referred to as Section A, Section B, Section E, Section F, Section H." In each of the five sections Roman numerals I, II, III, IV etc., are used to designate the second generation. If individuals listed appear under the same higher symbol, they are brothers and sisters "(Example: I, II, III, IV under A in Section A, are brothers and sisters, but they are cousins to I, II, III under B in Section B)."

For the third generation the Arabic numerals 1, 2, 3, 4 are used. Individuals are brothers and sisters if they come under the same higher symbol A and under the same Roman numeral I, but they are cousins to 1, 2, 3 under II - A, and second-cousins to 1, 2, 3 under I - B.

In the fourth generation, the Arabic numerals in parentheses (1), (2), (3) are used. In the fifth generation the lower-case letters a, b, c are used.

It is suggested that for succeeding generations, the following scheme be used: 6th, Gen., (a); 7th, (1') 8th, (a').

This letter was apparently addressed to Peter Unrau's.

To all of you; dear children, brothers and sisters. We wish you the peace of God the most High in this New Year which we have just entered. We send you a greeting of love. With the Apostle Paul in II Corinthians, chapter 1, verse 2, "Grace be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ." We must search our souls with the poet when he says: Three hundred sixty-five days have again rolled by; its contents have been placed on the balances of the Almighty, who will mete out justice, curses and blessings. O dear soul, search thyself, which way is my balance tilting; weighed and found wanting. Even Belshazzar's face turns pale, saved through the wounds of Jesus, you will receive double punishment. Do you lack the precious fruit of faith which God wishes to bestow on you? Amen. Dear brothers and sisters P.U. (Peter Unrau's) and P.V. (Peter Voth's). It has pleased the Almighty to call our father, (Heinrich Unrau), home, with the words: "Return home again, ye children of men." After a fourteen day serious and very painful illness, our father passed away at the age of 82 years, 7 months and 9 days. Yes, dear friends, the final hour for which he had longed so long finally struck on January 13, 1878 at 4 p.m. We confidently trust that the dear heavenly Father has taken his soul to the heavenly mansions. He would often beg us to pray for him so that God would listen to his weak prayers. Often, we also had to sing for him; and if the verses were read beforehand, he would frequently sing along. We notified Jacob Unrau that he should come home. He came home for Epiphany, and when he prepared to leave again, father said to him: "Why are you worrying and concerned about me? I am entirely well." Father also gave his son Jacob good advice when he said: Sirach says, "Have God before your eyes and in your heart then you will sin no more." Father was very patient during his illness and he was quite content that his sickness was as bearable as it was. He suffered from constipation. No medicine gave him any relief. We accompanied him Tuesday, January 17, to his final resting place. Rev. Franz Görtz preached the funeral sermon. He said among other things, which text shall we choose, shall we choose a text from Revelations where it says: "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, henceforth" (Rev. 14, verse 13), or from Luke 16, verse 19; or shall we preach a funeral sermon to ourselves according to Daniel 5 where the hand of a man appeared on the plastered wall? He said, "the funeral service cannot be of much service to the dead body. Let us therefore preach a sermon to ourselves, for some day we shall lie in a casket like this one and if at that time we shall hear those terrible words, which Daniel interpreted to the mighty king in verse 27, where it reads; "Thou art weighed in the balances and found wanting." He preached the sermon to us the living bidding us to prepare ourselves for the end that may come soon. Well dear brother Peter Unrau, we received your dear letter for which we and also father had waited so anxiously for such a long time. We received the letter on January 19, two days after the funeral. We received the letter from brother-in-law Voth, which he had written to J.S. in Steinfeld, after father's death. During his sickness father asked me how you were getting along in America. He wanted to know how you are making out. Well, I have now reported on father's passing and on his funeral. Everything is very expensive now. The casket cost 15 rubles, 50 kopeks; the box costs 60 kopeks; butter 15 kopeks. We also purchased meat. When everything is bought cash, it cost a lot of money. We have not added up all the expenditures. We will give you an accurate account later. On the day after the funeral, we divided father's shirts eight ways. We sold the fur coat and some other clothes. We considered that if we have our public sale in spring, nobody will bid on a fur coat. We have not sold any beds. We shall keep them until the sale. Well, dear brother

Unrau, now we have answered your question. You asked how is father getting along and how does he feel. The rest of us are all well. We hope most sincerely that this letter will reach you in the best of health. I must deliver a greeting from Peter Görtzen's to you. They requested us to tell you that 7 of their grandchildren died within 8 days, they attended the funerals. Four of J. Görtzen's children died; they have only one left. One child died at P. Görtzen's, one at Harms and one at Peters, the schoolteacher. Mrs. Görtzen told me that the passing of the last one was still very vivid before her eyes. 43 children died of this illness. No one has died in the last week and a half, but one child is still seriously ill. Frequently, three caskets are lowered into one grave. Well dear children Funk's, now we come to you for a visit and wish you a blessed year in your new homeland. With the king of the poets whom we all serve, save us through thy salvation from the uncertain rest. Dear friends pray to the Saviour of the world, who shed His blood on the cross, bless our troubled hearts. We would very much like to know how you are getting along and whether you are satisfied in your new homeland. We hope most sincerely that you will like it as well as Peter Unrau stated in his letter. He says that after careful consideration he finds no reason why he should not have made the trip; and if you feel the same, you will find that many of the burdens will become lighter. Now we come to you, Peter Baltzer's for a visit. We acknowledge herewith the receipt of your letters. We received the letter which you wrote in November just before Christmas. You were our dear visitors for Christmas. The letter which you wrote in December arrived here on January 5. But due to the passing of our father we had no time to write. For your information, Peter Neufeld's daughter will be married to Jacob Peters, son of widower Jacob Peters. They are engaged now. Henry Neufeld's son Aaron is also married. He married Eduard Klassen's daughter in Nikolaidorf. David Baltzer from Rudnerweide has bought a small farm and a windmill (four mill) at this end of Rudnerweide. The transaction has already been closed. David Baltzer's in Marienthal have a small baby boy. This brother feels insulted by you Peter Baltzer that you haven't written any letter to him. Johann Dürksen's have also a baby boy by the name of David. We visited them on the 12th of January. She (Mrs. Dürksen) is well on the way of recovery. Well Franz Heinrichs, now we come for a visit to you. Dear daughter Chatarina, you said in your last letter if it were not so far to Liebenau you would have come for a visit a long time ago. Maybe you need a warm dress for your Cornelius; you wrote us that he was naked. You shall have that dress just as soon as you come and get it. Dear Maria, write us a letter too. How are you getting along in your reading lessons? During New Year's time I have often thought of you all, how you loved to come and visit us and recite your Christmas poems which your kind teachers had taught you. That is always a great joy for the little children. Please give our greetings to your dear grandmother and tell her to write us a letter telling us how she is getting along. You write so often that you wish to know something about the old country. Let me tell you my dear friend and neighbor, Heinrich Unruh, that your letter which you wrote to Lachod arrived here on January 14. We have read the letter. He told me that he would soon write you again. His oldest son has been married. The second son's number was drawn last fall and so he had to go in service. The father accompanied his son with tears in his eyes as far as he could. We send greetings to you and your wife. We shall close this humble letter. May you all be in the care of the Holy God, and with sincere greetings we remain

Liebenau, 21 January 1878, Heinrich Baltzer

All of the above birth dates are according to the Julian Calendar which was used in Russia at that time. Only the death dates of those that died after coming to America are according to the Gregorian Calendar which we use today. To bring the Julian dates in harmony with the Gregorian, one adds twelve days to the Julian dates.

We do not know if Heinrich Baltzer II was the only child of Heinrich and Maria (Neuman) Baltzer I. In his letter on page 9-10 in this book he mentions a David Baltzer in Marienthal, whom he calls brother. Whether the word "brother" in this sentence means that David was actually a brother or merely a good friend of his is a matter of speculation. When in 1878 the Heinrich Baltzers II came to America they moved into the Sommerstube of the home of their youngest daughter Helena, the Peter Unraus. He had a friendly and generous disposition. It is known that he helped his friends out financially by making loans to them. He bought eighty acres of land adjoining their children's farm; starting out with planting an orchard, evidently planning on building their own home. These plans were never realized. Great-grandfather died in 1885 and is buried in a private burial lot on the Peter Unraus' former farm.

Of his eight children five, four daughters and one son, grew up to maturity. Our Baltzer genealogy starts with these five children as the first generation.

South Russian Mennonites settle in Kansas

As we scan through some of the old Kansas Newspapers on micro-film found in the Historical Library, Topeka, Kansas, some very interesting facts come to light about the Mass Emigration in 1874 and 1875 of our Russian Mennonites to this country.

The Topeka Daily Commonwealth, Oct. 15, 1874 makes mention of the two hundred and fifty Mennonite families that had arrived in Topeka within the last month. The majority were from the Molotschna colony which was comprised of sixty-five villages; this colony was considered the wealthiest of the German settlement in Russia. We know that our Peter Balzer family was in this group. The Mass Emigration continued through the following year 1875, not as many people came the second year but among them was the Franz Heinrichs family.

The following are excerpts from the 'Kansas State Record' Editorial column: Wed., Sept. 16, 1874.

"The greatest attraction during the past week has been the 600 Mennonites who have been keeping house in the east wing of the King Bridge Shops. These people arrived direct from their ocean passage and were 'awearry'. They stop in Topeka to rest; to procure supplies for their winter camping on their new prairie homes along the A. T. & S. R. R. and to allow time for their principal men to select locations. Their presence in Topeka has attracted in the direction of the Bridge Shops, nearly all the pleasure driving during the week; while many have visited them in parties. Friday night the High School visited them and some of the young ladies sang to them which seemed to be fully appreciated. In return a quartet of the Mennonites sang Home Sweet Home in their language."

Wed., Sept. 30, 1874

"There are now 1,400 Mennonites in Topeka. Most of them occupy the east wing of the King Bridge Shops; and with the accumulation of their constant purchases in the city, they make that part of the building uncomfortably full. Especially is this felt when a meal is being prepared; as they do their cooking on stoves with only a joint or two of pipe, all the smoke escaping in the building. These people are close buyers; and although our merchants are glad to get their ready money pay, the shrewdest of them cannot realize very large profits on their sales."

The Mennonites

To the Editors of the Record:

Would it not be well and politic for the citizens of Topeka to show some attention and little acts of courtesy and civility to these interesting strangers now in our midst? They will shortly leave us for their home in the southern part of the state, which they will soon transform from its present wilderness condition into cultivated and improved farms. They will be a respectable and most desirable acquisition to our population. It is well known that they are a thrifty-hardworking body of people, and that other States of the Union have offered them inducements to locate elsewhere. They have, however, chosen our young and growing state as the place in which to make their future homes, and it would be the dictate of wisdom and sound policy in our merchants, and businessmen, to conciliate their kind feelings toward Topeka, and induce them to look upon our city as the place for them to trade in the future.

One of our most enterprising and respectable citizens (Col. W.D. Terry) always alive to our interests, intends today, to send his six omnibuses down to the Bridge Shops in order to show them the sights in Topeka. He will drive them through our principal avenues, visit the Capital with them, etc., and, so far as he can, will enable them to spend an hour in making themselves known to our citizens... The Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe R. R. has assisted these people very much, and the officers of that road, especially Messrs. Schmidt and Nettleton, are entitled to great credit for inducing them to come to Kansas in preference to other localities. ...

Since the above was written, Capt. Terry put his large four horse buses at the service of these people. They were accompanied by Mr. Schmidt, of the A.T. & S.R.R., who acted as an interpreter, and Mr. Smith and E.H. Blake. On arriving at the Capital, they roamed all over the building, when one of them requested Mr. Schmidt, to show them the law passed by the Kansas Legislature, relieving them from military duty. (The law enacted by the Kansas Legislature earlier that year, which exempted the Mennonites from military duty or a tax.) That gentleman at once complied with their request, and translated it to them. Almost every one of them examined it very closely, when one of them remarked that while they were yet in Russia, they had determined to come to Kansas as soon as they learned of the passage of that law. Another one added that "It would bring all from Russia that were left there." They then got into the "Buses" and were driven to their quarters, apparently highly delighted with their trip. ...

Wed., Oct. 7, 1874

"The Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe Company are building barracks near the stations which are nearest the lands selected and purchased by the Mennonite colony, to shelter them while they are building their own houses. The Railroad Company is certainly dealing with those people on a very liberal and generous scale. They are provided with free transportation for themselves, their supplies etc., including lumber wherewith to make them houses."

Wed., Oct. 28, 1874

(From the Newton Kansan)

Mennonite Houses

"Messrs Ruth, Lane & Diebert, the former from Halstead, and two latter from Topeka, are now engaged at this place, on the grounds east of the railroad superintendent's office, in preparing the frames for about one hundred residences for the Mennonites, who have settled in a northerly direction from here. They have now about one hundred carpenters at work, and eight car loads of lumber here and on the way. The houses are to be of various sizes and designs, and will be placed upon the various farms as fast as possible. This Company brought twelve carpenters from Topeka with them, the remainder have been hired here, and is quite a lift to many of our people at this season of the year.

Messrs. Davis & Elliott have also a contract to bore some seventy wells for this people, at 75 cents per foot, and which is no small job.

According to the present aspect of things, Newton will derive more benefit from this immigration than all the other places on the line combined."

Kansas Miscellanies by Noble L. Prentis. This book is a collection of short articles, among them are the reprints of:

1. "The Mennonites at home," from the Topeka Commonwealth, Aug. 20, 1875.

Noble L. Prentis writes in this article about his first visit to the Mennonite settlement north of Newton in 1875. Quotations follow:

"The Mennonites have a decided preference for watermelons over every other fruit.* They call the melon arboosen. ...The American prefers to migrate to a country where he has a chance to be eaten up by grizzlies and chased by wolves, ...while the Mennonite sees no fun in danger, abhors war, and so seeks out a fertile, peaceable country, where he buries his glittering steel, ... in the bowels of the luscious watermelon.

... An object of interest to all except the Mennonites, was a Russian farm wagon, noticeable for its short coupling, narrow 'track,' flaring bed painted green, and a profusion of blacksmith's work all over. The horse-trader intimated that the American eagle would not condescend to ride in such a wagon.

The interior of the house, as we have said, consisted of two rooms, as yet unplastered, ...The only 'foreign contrivance' to attract a stranger's notice was the bedstead and bedding, the latter piled up in a high stack when not in use, and covered over with a calico 'spread.' ...the green-and-gold face of a Russian clock that ticked on the wall. These clocks are seen everywhere. They sport a long pendulum with a disk as big as a buckwheat cake, and long, heavy hanging weights of brass. There was not a newspaper or periodical in sight, and no books save a black-covered German Bible, ... and several Mennonite Hymn-books; ... There were a few relics of Russia to be seen, especially no pictures of any sort. In every kitchen; however, there is a Russian teakettle."

2. "A day with the Mennonites," from the Atchinson Champion, May 8, 1882

Noble L. Prentis writes in this article about his second visit to the Mennonite settlement north of Newton in 1882.

"By far the most extensive and notable immigration in the history of Kansas was that of the so-called 'Russian,' which began substantially in 1874, and which has resulted in the settlement of fifteen thousand Mennonites in the counties of Marion, Harvey, McPherson, Butler, Reno and Barton. ...The rallying-point of the Russian immigrants in 1874 and 1875 was Topeka, and that town abounded with sheepskin coats, ample breeches, bulbous petticoats, iron teakettles, and other objects supposed to be distinctively Russian, for many months.

... A great change had taken place in the country generally since my last visit. ... The most surprising thing about these places is the growth of the trees. I left bare prairie; I returned to find a score of miniature forests in sight from any point of view. The wheat and corn fields were unfenced, of course, but several acres around every house were set in hedges, orchards, lanes and alleys of trees. ... In many cases the houses were hardly visible from the road, and in a few years will be entirely hidden in the cool shade.

... Another source of pride were the apricots. The seed was brought from Russia, and the trees bore plentifully last year. ... Peter Schmidt showed all his arboral treasures - apples, cherries, peaches, apricots, pears, all in bearing, where seven years ago the wind in passing found only the waving prairie grass.

... It is a matter, I regret to say, of uncertainty, whether the work begun by these Mennonite settlers will be completed. If the sons and grandsons of Peter Schmidt, of Emmanthal, and Heinrich Richert, of Blumenfeld, will walk in the ways of these worthy men, the result will be something like fairyland - the fairies being, however, substantial men, weighing about 185 pounds each. The orchards will bud and bloom, and amid them will stand the solid brick houses, like those of Russia, and the richest farmers of Kansas will dwell therein. But there is a danger that this will not come to pass. Jacob and David will go to work on the railroad, and let the plow take care of itself; and Susanna and Aganetha will go out to service in town, and fall to wearing fine clothes and marrying American Gentiles; and the evil day may come when the descendant of the Mennonites of the old stock will be cushioning store-boxes, saving the Nation with his mouth, or even going about like a roaring lion, seeking a nomination for Congress. I wish I could believe it otherwise. ... I could indulge in a vision of the future - of a peaceful, quiet wealthy people, undisturbed by the throes of speculation or politics, dwelling in great content under the vines and mulberry trees which their fathers planted in the grassy, wind-swept wilderness."

A LOOK IN THE PAST

The tradition that our forefathers originally came from the Netherlands is well founded. Many of the land lease contracts of the 16th and 17th centuries in the Danzig area testify to Hollanders as the signers of the contracts. Among the signers, called Hollanders, we find such names as: BALTZER, CORNELS, DECKER, MATHISSEN, SCHROEDER, UNRAU, VOGT and other Mennonite names.

The names of BALTZER and SCHROEDER with some variations in spelling occur in the early Mennonite history in West Prussia. The first reference to the name of BALTZER that has come to my attention is its use as a first name in the name of BALTZER MATHISSEN as one of the Hollanders signing the land lease contract for the village of Schönsee on Sept. 26, 1595 (1). The second reference is to STEFFEN BALTZER, an inhabitant of the village Jamerau signing a 30-year renewal lease contract for the village of Jamerau on June 26, 1626 (1). A generation or two later we find a HANS BALTZER as elder of the Montau church, the oldest Mennonite church in the immediate vicinity of Graudenz, now Grudziadz. He served as elder of that church from 1661 to 1702 (2). Our own great-great-grandfather, HEINRICH BALTZER I lived in the village of Gross Lubin, 3 miles north of Graudenz and 4 miles south of Montau. HEINRICH BALTZER I found his bride in the sister Mennonite church at Tragheimerweide, about 20 miles north of his home. In 1806 he married MARIA NEUMANN, a daughter of DAVID NEUMANN in Schulwiese (3).

It is believed that the HEINRICH BALTZER I family lived in the village of Gross Lubin until they emigrated about 1820 to the Molotschna colony in South Russia, where they affiliated with the Frisian Mennonite Church in Rudnerweide.

The name SCHROEDER occurs as early as 1592 in West Prussia in the signature of the renewal of a land lease contract of the village of Klein Sanskau on July 10, 1592 (1). This was a CHRISTIAN SCHRÖDER, living in the village of Montau at the time. Our own great-great-grandparents HEINRICH SCHRÖDER and AGANETHA SCHRÖDER lived in the village of Podwitz, only 3 miles southwest of Schönsee, where the church was. In 1820 HEINRICH SCHRÖDER'S emigrated with their children, HEINRICH 10, PETER 7, and HELENA our own great-greatmother, 4 years old, from Podwitz in West Prussia to the Molotschna colony in South Russia (4). It is believed that they lived in the village of Alexanderwohl but affiliated with the Frisian Mennonite Church in Rudnerweide.

On Jan. 21, 1837, HEINRICH BALTZER II, a son of HEINRICH BALTZER I and MARIA NEUMANN, married HELENA SCHRÖDER, a daughter of HEINRICH SCHRÖDER and AGANETHA SCHRÖDER in Alexanderwohl. Apparently, the young couple also made their home in Alexanderwohl where all the children of this union were born (5): After his first wife, HELENA SCHRÖDER, died in 1845, HEINRICH BALTZER II married his maid, MARIA UNRAU from the village of Liebenau. Years later they moved to the village of Liebenau to live. The parents of MARIA UNRAU were HEINRICH UNRAU and ANNA JANTZ. She was a sister to Rev. PETER UNRAU, who was a minister for many years in the Rudnerweide church in Russia and in the Alexanderwohl church in Kansas.

Of the HEINRICH BALTZER II family, their children Peter Balzer's were the first to emigrate to America. They came over on the German steamship Cimbria in late summer of 1874. They settled in the village of Grünfeld, about 3 miles southeast of Goessel, Kansas. The FRANZ HEINRICHS family followed them the following summer, coming over on the steamship Nederland. They also settled in the village of Grunfeld not far from PETER BALZER'S. The PETER UNRAU'S and the PETER FUNK'S came over in the summer of 1877 on the steamship Vaderland, landing in Philadelphia on June 29, 1877. The parents HEINRICH BALTZER'S II and their children, the JOHANN DÜRKSEN'S, crossed the Atlantic on the German steamer Strassburg and arrived in Peabody, Kansas, on July 4, 1878. The HEINRICH BALTZER'S settled in Blumenort, and lived with their children, PETER UNRAU'S, about 3 miles north of Goessel, Kansas. The JOHANN DÜRKSEN'S settled on a farm about 9 miles northeast of Goessel, Kansas. The PETER FUNK'S had settled in 1877 on a farm in Gnadenfeld about one mile east of Goessel, Kansas.

The name BALTZER is spelled with a t in the Montau and Tragheimerweide church records in West Prussia; it is also spelled with a t in the earlier records in the Alexanderwohl Mennonite church book here in Kansas. In fact, our own great-grandfather HEINRICH BALTZER II spelled his name with a t in a letter written as late as Jan. 21, 1878. But all his descendants in America write their name BALZER without the t.

JOAHNN AND AGANETHA BALZER DUERKSEN

In the eighteen thirties there lived a Johann and Helena Boldt Dürksen in the village of Alexanderthal in the Molotschna colony in South Russia, about 45 miles northwest of Berdyansk on the Black Sea. Johann Dürksen was generally known by the nickname "Öl Ohm Yehaun" meaning in English "Uncle John the oil man." He had acquired this nickname, according to C.H. Friesen, because he had an oil press for pressing oil from hedge mustard (Hadrück or Hederich), a common weed with yellow flowers in the wheat fields in Russia. The oil was used for lamps in the homes. The Russian peasants also used this oil as a substitute for lard during the fasting season of Lent. This Johann Dürksen family belonged to the Frisian Mennonite church in Rudnerweide, where Benjamin Ratzlaff was elder at the time.

At the age of 24, his son Johann married Aganetha Balzer from Alexanderwohl, the oldest daughter of Heinrich Baltzer's who were also members of the Rudnerweide church. The young couple settled in Alexanderthal also, where their 4 oldest children were born. In 1862 they moved 10 miles northwest to the village Gnadenthal where the 10 younger children were born. While living in Gnadenthal, according to tradition, they worshipped in the Margenau church. In late spring of 1878, the Johann Dürksen's with their family of 13 children and their parents, Heinrich Baltzer's left Russia for the United States. They crossed the Atlantic Ocean on the German steamship "Strassburg" from Bremen to New York, arriving on July 2, in New York, and July 4th at Peabody, Ks.

The grandparents Duerksen's settled on the southwest quarter of Section 18 in Liberty Township, Marion County, Kansas. Grandfather bought this farm for $8.00 an acre from a Mr. Kreis, who lived in a sod house. In the early years the land was mostly tilled with oxen, later giving way to horses. The horse-drawn steam engine was used for many years for threshing the grains. Their best corn crop in the early years yielded 90 bushels to the acre. Grandfather was known as a frugal farmer, accumulating several sections of land before he died, so that each child inherited about 120 acres.

Three serious misfortunes befell the Johann Duerksen family within the short span of six years. In the summer of 1885 while the men-folk and some of the older girls were harvesting wheat on a distant field, lightning struck their family home with the result that the house and barn with furniture and equipment burned down. Practically nothing was saved.

Four years later, in 1889, a severe horse epidemic struck this part of Kansas, locally known as "Stampa" or "Distemper" but according to a veterinarian was probably the dreaded "Strangles." The county inspector condemned 5 of grandfather's horses to be shot. About a month later when there was no sign of illness left among the horses, the sheriff shot the five horses.

Then in spring of 1891, at the age of 55, grandfather died very suddenly of a heart attack at the supper table.

In Kansas, the grandparents joined the (Flemish) Alexanderwohl Church, where several of grandmother's sisters, one brother's family and Grandfather's brother Heinrich had joined several years earlier.

Grandfather had either no schooling or only very little for he could not read nor write when they were married. Grandmother taught him to read after they were married.

In 1892 grandmother was married for the second time, when she became the wife of Jacob Krause. They continued to live on the Duerksen farm until 1903 when grandmother passed away rather suddenly.

Jacob A. Duerksen

A TRIBUTE TO GRANDMOTHER AGANETHA BALZER DUERKSEN

Grandma Duerksen was a wonderful grandma. We loved to go to her house for a visit. She was quite heavy set and always ready to keep us company when we came to her house. Grandparents lived in a long Russian style house with the barn, instead of the garage, attached to the north end of the house. Grandma kept the house very neat, she loved to work in the house and yard.

She always had a word of instruction for us children, which sometimes was rather humiliating. We loved to reach into the deep side pocket of her dress for something good to eat, for she usually had something in her pocket. One time, I shall never forget, I became somewhat bold and said, "Hast Du eene Kock fa me"? Whereupon she replied, "Je Kinga motta emma See saga to olle Lied." (This is an instruction to always use the polite form to older people). I have never forgotten that, and am sure always used "See" after that; even to this day I respect older people. I always felt very close to grandma, she always was an inspiration to me. I am sorry that I have not remembered more things about her life. We loved to eat lunch with the grandparents on Christmas Day and recite our Christmas pieces for a small sack of peanuts and a cookie.

The night before she died, coming home from the doctor with grandpa Krause, her second husband, she said to me, "Everything smells so different." I think the doctor had told her that she was very sick; she had dropsy. That night she went home to be with her Lord.

After her death I missed her and often think of her as a dear Christian grandmother who was much interested in teaching us short Bible verses and the following table prayer: "Komm Herr Jesus sei unser Gast, und segne was Du uns bescheret hast. Amen."

She raised a large family of which all children but one have left to meet her in Glory. She was a very peaceful and contented woman. May the Lord give us more grandmothers like her.

In Memory of Grandmother Maria Balzer Dalke Funk

Our grandmother was born December 22, 1838 in South Russia. She grew up in a Christian home where Christ was honored, church attendance practiced, and life was a daily walk with God.

In 1858 at the age of eighteen she was married to widower Ludwig Dalke, thereby accepting the responsibility of mothering his eight children. To this union eight children were born. After thirteen years of married life in 1871 grandfather Dalke passed on to his reward. The cause of his death was pneumonia; leaving grandmother alone to care for the large family.

A year later in 1872 she married widower Peter Funk, also with a family of children. To this union three children were born.

In 1877 the family left Russia for a new country, seeking for a new home where they could worship God according to the dictates of their conscience. They then settled on a modest farm near Goessel, Kansas.

The ocean voyage had been quite rough, and because of much sea-sickness grandmother developed an abdominal hernia, which in later life was the cause of much distress. After the death of grandfather Funk in 1885 of typhoid fever, she was again left alone to care for the family.

Memory takes us back to their early years in America. They were hard years, but she continued to trust the Lord to supply every need. In our mental picture we see her sitting in her easy chair wearing a little black cap and a pretty neck scarf with her well worn Bible on her lap and her knitting basket beside her. She was seldom idle, but she knew what hard work was, even while still a young girl in Russia she helped in the field with the ripened grain. Thus being over-heated in the hot sun and over-tired by long hours, she lost the sight of one eye. This then was the reason for her wearing a narrow black band over this eye. In spite of this defect she still did much reading in her German Bible, as well as other Christian literature to enlighten and strengthen her spiritual life.

Together with her two youngest daughters, Agnes and Susie, they finally settled near her oldest daughter, Maria (Mrs. Peter Heinrichs) which was more convenient for her to enjoy the family and grandchildren.

Her last few years were spent in Hillsboro, Kansas, with her daughter Susie (Mrs. Jacob Krause). On September 17, 1916, at the age of seventy-seven years, the Lord took His faithful child home. The cause of her death was an intestinal inflammation. Her body rests in the Springfield Church cemetery near Lehigh, Kansas.

She was short and stout, had blue eyes and a warm heart, and possessed the Christian graces of patience, forbearance and love.

Translated from the German

The experiences of Grandmother, as she relates them herself

"I was born December 22, 1838 in the Village Alexanderwohl, South Russia. While still young I was sent to school, I enjoyed to study and it was easy for me. My teacher was a child of God and he tried to show us the way to heaven in such a way so it would become clear to us.

One day he read Matthew 25 to us. In his own way he made it clear so that we felt we could see the Lord Jesus coming in the sky. He explained this passage of Scripture so vividly as though we could see the sun and stars falling from heaven, and the sun and moon losing their brilliance.

This was the time and hour when I started praying and to prepare for the time when Christ in reality would return to this earth to receive His own to himself.

At the age of twelve I prayed much that God should forgive my sins and give me that peace of heart I was longing for. At this time the real meaning of hell was not clear to me. I thought of it as an actual fire, when a guilty conscience will in reality torment the lost sinner through all eternity.

The time came when we were to discontinue our schooling. Our teacher, Brother Abraham Peters, read to us from I Samuel 12:3 and admonished us to be faithful, and said he would continue to pray for us, and he expected to meet all of us before the Throne of God. These remarks left a great impression upon my mind but I still could not claim Salvation.

Too soon did I forget those admonishing words, and my good intentions left me, but God did not leave me and He gave me a desire to fellowship with born again Christians. At the age of sixteen years the question was put to me whether I was ready to follow Christ in Holy Baptism and join the fellowship in the Church. Deep in my heart I could not yet claim salvation. I felt unworthy to take this step, but I did become a candidate for Baptism in spite of my inner struggles.

Another year passed when God spoke again to my soul while reading a book. I prayed day and night that God should forgive my sins, and that night God spoke peace to my soul and said, "Thy sins are forgiven thee, go in Peace." My answer to Him was, "Bless the Lord O my Soul" and joy filled my soul and I prayed with thanksgiving. From that time on I could also pray for the beggar knocking at my door because Jesus Christ had also shed His blood on the cross for such a man. And I now rejoiced because the Blood of Jesus Christ was now shed within my heart. I now learned to pray to my God and sing, "Happy Day, Happy Day, when Jesus washed my sins away."

This wonderful peace eventually left me when an inner voice told me that I had been baptized before I had the assurance of Salvation. I felt assured that God had forgiven all my other sins, only not this one. This disobedience stood before me as a tall mountain. What could I do, it had happened. But thank God, He came and comforted me and gave me a desire to be rebaptized upon profession of faith.

At that time it seemed to me as though I was standing all alone, no one with whom I could share my feelings, but yet I knew God was standing by me and comforting me; God was my friend. Yet these experiences seemed to crush me and my prayer life again became lax and temptations mounted.

Then a voice told me that it was impossible to again be renewed when I had fallen away after I had been enlightened through God's Word. I cried bitter tears and became a burden to myself in my discouragement.

How much I would have liked to see the word "discouraged" be removed from the Word of God, but that was impossible because God himself had written it. Now I thank God that during these temptations by Satan, the Lord sent the teacher, Abraham Peters, to our village. Through his prayers and sympathy, and reading from God's Word, I again could lay hold on God's promises and claim them as for me. Yes, this man of God brought many rich blessings to my soul.

In the year of 1877 we came to America. In the first years we experienced many hardships and met with many difficult problems, yet through them all we learned to put our trust in the Lord, and we learned to know Him better.

After a time we learned to know the Krimmer Mennonite Brethren, and it did not take long until we felt at home in their fellowship.

In 1878 we were baptized and joined their church. Soon we could say from the depths of our hearts as we read in Psalm 84:1-2, "How amiable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts! My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: My heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God." I was indeed happy because I had found sisters and brethren who had had similar experiences as I had.

With tears in our eyes did we relate of our varied experiences in search of the living word of God, and in so doing our problems became lighter.

It was during those Sunday morning services when we had our faith and strength renewed. This was a blessed time, it even was a pleasure to drive twelve miles to church to hear the word of God preached and have our faith strengthened.

Soon our children also learned to know the Lord Jesus as their personal Saviour. With tears in our eyes we sang, "O, Selige Stund die Jesus uns schenkt, da man nur die Wunden des Lammes gedenkt, selige zeit, O, blike des Lichts, man senkt sich in blute und denkt sonst an nichts, dem Erden getimmel enflieht man so gern, and wandelt im Himmel beim Lamme des Herrn."

Many years went by, many difficulties came our way. I spent many nights in prayer asking for renewed strength to meet the problems that confronted me and my children.

And now after a life of many problems and cares I have reached the end of my life's journey. I do not know how soon God will be ready to call me home, but it cannot be very long. He alone knows the time. Until then I will be faithfully waiting.

It is fifty-two years since I accepted Christ as my personal Saviour and promised Him to be faithful. I have failed Him many times, yet He has not failed me.

The love of God has become very precious to me, especially when I sit alone and have no one to comfort me, though God's Word becomes a great blessing to me, especially when I read John the 17th chapter.

My prayer is that I may bear fruit for Him and show my thankfulness for what He has done for me. My lips shall ever praise Him."

Tena Heinrichs

Harvey J. Krause
Dinuba, California

Harvey J. Krause, my brother was born in Lehigh, Kansas, on April 10, 1907 to Jacob T. and Susie Funk Krause. At the age of eighteen years he began to work for various fruit and vegetable companies making boxes and loading fruit and vegetables into freight cars. Most of this work was done in the Imperial Valley, Watsworth and Centro, California.

In the fall of 1936 he wrote a letter to our parents that he was planning to take a trip enjoying himself, and he did not intend to come back home, but they should not worry about him. This letter was received from St. Louis Mississippi,

Since then no word has ever been heard from him. This was especially hard for our Mother, she was hoping and praying that some day he might return. She has since gone to the great beyond with the full assurance that she will some day meet him in Glory.

Harvey was about five feet nine inches tall, dark brown curly hair and brown eyes, weight one hundred eighty to one hundred ninety pounds, was not married.

David and Sara (Schroeder) Balzer 1958

Our grandfather, Peter Balzer, a son of Heinrich and Helena (Schroeder) Baltzer, was born September 9, 1842, in the Molotschna Colony in the village of Alexanderwohl, South Russia. At the age of three years and five months he lost his mother through death; his father soon remarried. His stepmother, Maria Unruh, was a very efficient housekeeper and a devout Christian, so that Grandfather grew up under the influence of a Christian home. At the age of nineteen he was baptized upon the confession of his faith by Elder Benjamin Ratzlaff on September 6, 1861, and received into the membership of the Rudnerweide church.

On May 15, 1866, Grandfather was united in marriage to Maria Schmidt, by Rev. Jacob Buller. They established their home in the village of Liebenau. Our grandmother Maria, a daughter of Andreas and Eva Schmidt, was a childhood playmate of Grandfather. Their parents were next-door neighbors in Alexanderwohl, South Russia and friends of long standing.

When the Russian Government withdrew its promise to exempt the Mennonites from military service, Grandparents with their three children, a young son and two small daughters, joined the great exodus to America. They were the first members of the Balzer clan to venture out into a new and unknown country. They were willing to make the best of pioneer life with all its hardships for the sake of their children. It must have been a time of mixed feelings of hope and sadness when they left their much cherished home in Liebenau and began their journey to America. However, grandfather's parents and his four sisters and their families followed them later, over a period of four years.

Grandparent's oldest child, Heinrich, my father, who was just past six years of age, when they left Russia, loved to talk about the hustle and bustle of the last months before going to America. One day father decided to do his share of helping by hoeing the vegetable garden for his grandparents who were staying on in Liebenau. He was still too young to distinguish between weeds and vegetable plants and hoed out whatever was in his path. When his grandmother discovered what was happening to her garden, she gave her grandson a merry chase. Father, to escape the punishment he so rightfully deserved, outran her and hid for the rest of the afternoon among the rocks on top of a big Russian mangle. Father also loved to tell about the trunkful of zwieback which his mother baked and toasted for the long journey to America because the emigrants were responsible for at least part of their food on the trip.

They left Liebenau, South Russia for America on July 20, 1874. After traveling about eight days across country by rail, they reached Hamburg, Germany. Here they, with others spent a few days in a large emigration home, Uebersee Heim, waiting for the sailing date of their ship. On July 31 they embarked on the big steamer "Cimbria," an old freighter. This group of Mennonites, under the leadership of Elder Jacob Buller, counted 303 adults and 172 children. During the fifteen days that they were on the high seas, most of the passengers experienced some seasickness at one time or another; Grandmother was in bed seriously seasick all the way. How thankful they all must have been when on August 15 the ship docked at the New York Harbor.

After leaving New York, one of the longer stopovers was Lincoln, Nebraska, where they stayed from August 23 to September 11. From there the Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad Association took the group that had decided to go to Kansas to Topeka, Kansas. In Topeka they stayed in a vacant factory building in the east wing of the King Bridge Shops for about two weeks, after which they came to Newton on September 26.

All of the above dates are according to the Julian Calendar, which was used in Russia at that time. It is said that the Alexanderwohl people continued to use this calendar during their first year in America. After that they began to use the Gregorian, which we use today. To bring the Julian dates in harmony with the Gregorian, one has to add twelve days. Thus, by adding twelve days to September 26, the group arrived in Newton on October 8, 1874, according to our time.

Grandfather bought a quarter section of land at $2.50 an acre eleven miles north of Newton and built a small shack on the land. In this shack, built out of wide rough boards, they spent the first winter enduring both the rainy and cold weather. When it rained their few possessions would get soaked. Father told us that at times that first year when it was bitterly cold, he had to wear his clothing to bed in order to keep warm through the night. The following winter they had already moved into their new home, which was a simply constructed but comfortable home, with the stable built under the same roof on the Russian pattern. In those pioneering days Grandparents used the tallow candles to light their home at night. Prairie hay, dried cow dung, and later cornstalks and cobs were used for fuel in their big Russian wall-oven built out of bricks in the partition wall of the house.

Grandfather was not only a farmer, but also a cabinet maker and built much of their own furniture. He also constructed coffins and often had to work into the wee hours of the morning in order to get them ready in time for the funeral. On Sunday and other special occasions he was one of the church's Vorsänger (song leader). His kindness and friendly disposition towards his neighbors and others won him many friends. He was a devout Christian who loved to study the Word of God. I have been told that Grandparents would often get together with Grandfather's sisters and brothers-in-law to spend the evening in singing hymns and reading and discussing God's Word.

He was a great lover of children. How well I remember as a four-year-old child that he called me his Sposz Vogel (Jester). Many a time he would take me on his knee and recite the following nursery rhyme (in Low German):

"Hota Monje jele
"Fora no de Mele
"Fora no de lome Staut
"Waut saull etj Maritje bringe?
"Schotjes met de Tjlinga
"Stremtjes met de Trasse
"Fora bat de Lasse
"Humpeltje, pumpeltje de Wag entlang."

Grandfather not only took time out to play with his grandchildren, but also often found time after working hours to play with the younger children in the family. In those days it was customary to wear Schlora (house sandals, a loose slipper) after working hours. His son David and daughter Margaret would run after their father trying to catch him. He would run so fast that the sandals would slip off his feet and fly high into the air. This was great fun for the children; they would roll on the ground laughing.

After suffering for five months with a throat ailment, Grandfather died at the age of 58 on October 1, 1900. We feel that this was much too young, but the Lord saw fit to call him home.

Katherine Balzer and Franz Heinrichs

In the National Archives, in Washington, D.C., is the passenger list of the steamship NEDERLAND, docking in Philadelphia on July 25, 1875. As we glance over the list our eye catches the names:

NAME	AGE	SEX	OCCUPATION	FROM WHERE	TO WHAT COUNTRY
Heinrichs, Franz	31	M	Farmer	Russia	Topeka
Catherine	31	F	Wife
Franz	5	M	Child
Johann	7	M	Child
Peter	3	M	Child
Maria	6	F	Child
Jacob		M	Child	Born at sea 15 July, 1875

This simple entry in the national records of our country marked the arrival of Catherine Balzer Heinrichs and Franz Heinrichs, whom she had married in Russia, February 1, 1866.

Catherine Balzer was born in South Russia in the Molotschna colony in the village of Alexanderwohl, January 6, 1844. Franz Heinrichs was also born in the Molotschna colony, but in the village of Prangenau, February 2, 1844. It was inevitable that they should meet, and at the age of 22 they married and established their home in Russia.

Nine and a half years later they decided to leave Russia and go, as so many others were doing, to the NEW WORLD. So with four small children, Franz, Johann, Peter, and Maria, and Grandma expecting her sixth child in a month (one child having died at the age of eight days), they left Russia on the 15th day of June, 1875. Six weeks later with a ten day old babe in her arms, four small children, their belongings and rations of toasted Zwieback, they first set foot in AMERICA at their destination, Topeka, Kansas. The family settled in Gruenfeld District, Marion County, Kansas, where they made their home. Grandpa planted some evergreen trees around the place, one of which I understand, is still growing. They had four more children born to them here, namely: Cornelius, Henry, David and William.

The church book of the Alexanderwohl Mennonite Church near Goessel, Kansas, has the Franz Heinrichs family listed as charter members, however, on October 18, 1885 they joined the Mennonite Brethren Church.

Later the grandparents moved to Gotebo, Oklahoma. Through the years in Kansas and Oklahoma the children had all grown up and married, except William, their youngest son. In 1909, our grandparents and William moved to California. They made their home in Reedley and were active and faithful church members. Grandpa was a deacon of the church.

Our grandmother, Katherina (records show that Grandma had changed the spelling of her first name) Balzer Heinrichs, could be encased in a verbal picture frame of HARD WORK, COURAGE, PATIENCE and FAITH.

HARD WORK:

The mother of ten children, one can well imagine the work in the days of hand sewing, hand washing, home baking, home butchering and etc.

COURAGE:

Her courage is well displayed in coming to America and settling here, having all the hardships of pioneer life, besides leaving her parents behind in Russia.

PATIENCE:

A lifetime of selfless serving brings quietness and understanding. This virtue belonging to our grandmother. Her words were few as she sat quietly and patiently knitting and mending in the later years of her life.

FAITH:

Faith in God is what Grandmother taught her family. Each child was brought to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ. Her faith gave her peace that passed understanding. She taught, not so much by words, but rather by example. I shall never forget the night Grandmother, my sisters and myself were home alone. We had gone to bed upstairs. Grandmother's bedroom was downstairs. Only in our teens, we were a little frightened anyway, and when we awoke about two o'clock in the morning to a horrifying electric storm we were beside ourselves. Putting our arms around each other, we crept downstairs to Grandma's room. As we called to her and asked if we might come in, a sudden flash of lightning showed her sitting in her rocking chair, fully dressed, calm and serene, rocking back and forth. I didn't realize it then, but I know it now, she had been expecting us, she was waiting for us, she was prepared for us. Gently telling us to bring in some chairs, she continued to rock, saying very little, only that "all was well." As the thunder crashed and the lightning flashed daylight into the room, each time we'd see Grandma's sweet calm face. This sight removed our fear and we too placed our trust in God. The storm passed, ALL WAS WELL.

Our grandfather Heinrichs passed away at the age of 73 years on May 16, 1917. Grandmother followed him in death seven years later, January 26, 1924, at the age of 80 years. The intervening years of her life after Grandfather died were spent in the home of my father and mother, Frank and Nettie Heinrichs.

PETER and HELENA (BALZER) UNRAU

We remember grandmother Helena Balzer Unrau as a quiet and industrious mother. She was born on February 9, 1845 in the village Alexanderwohl, South Russia. Since her mother died when she was quite young, she came to live in the home of her uncle Peter Schroeder where she grew up and received her training.

On August 29, 1862, she was baptized upon her confession of faith by Elder Peter Wedel and accepted into the membership of the Alexanderwohl Church. She was married to grandfather Peter Unrau in 1867 and lived with him 47 years. This union was blessed with 8 children. With this marriage she also took over duties of being a mother to the children of grandfather's first marriage.

In 1877 she came to America with her husband and family and settled near Goessel, in Marion Co., Kansas. During the pioneer days she helped along with field work including such things as helping to stack wheat.

After grandfather's death in 1915 she left her former home and came to live on the farm of her daughter Katharina, the C. C. Wedel family. Grandmother always attended church whenever her physical condition would permit. If she could not go she had her own worship service in the home. She sang a few songs and read a sermon from a book of sermons. She did not neglect the daily family worship in the home. In her prayers for others she often mentioned the names of those for whom she prayed. For instance during the illness of Missionary P.W. Penner, when he was still serving on the mission field, she prayed that the Lord might give him health again to continue his work to the end that many souls might be saved. That such a mother would also remember those of her immediate family in prayer is self-evident. Grandmother took part in the offerings of the church. When she was unable to attend she sent her offering along with her daughter.

In spite of her nearsightedness she was a great reader. Besides the Bible and religious books she read papers like the Bundesbote, Mennonitische Rundschau and Der Jugendfreund. When those of us who had less time to read wanted to know something we just asked grandmother.

We grandchildren remember her as a kind, patient, loving grandmother, we never heard her scold. At Christmas time she always liked to hear Christmas songs and poems by her grandchildren and handed a sack of nuts and candy to each grandchild.

During the last years of her life she was often ill and at times was cared for at Bethesda Hospital. On March 17, 1927 she became ill suddenly after she had eaten her noon meal and passed away at 2 p.m. Grandmother requested that she wanted to be dressed in white at her funeral. This wish was fulfilled. She looked young and beautiful in a white silk dress and a white cap like grandmothers wore in those days.

Thus ended the life of Grandmother Unrau but her influence lives on.
